Course objectives:

Introducing the student into the subject of university studies and getting acquainted with the form and organization of studies. Students will be introduced to the basic issues of the field, the environment in which the study will take place, the institutions with whom they will cooperate, and the study requirements. The subject creates the prerequisites for a systematic understanding of the theoretical and practical methods used in studying music. In connection with the acquired knowledge, the students are encouraged to work independently with the specialized text and to create a professional text.

Requirements on student

1. Active work in seminars.
2. Obligatory participation in at least two excursions to scientific and cultural institutions in Pilsen county.
3. Report.
4. Seminar work - to process the studied literary and electronic sources into a specialized text.

Content
